CONTROVERSIAL traffic measures in West Bay could be considered again after district councillors were presented with a petition from concerned residents and traders.

However the hard work isn't over yet, warned one Bridport councillor.

Last week during a full council meeting members of West Dorset District Council (WDDC) received the petition, which calls for the removal of the West Bay Road pinch point and for priority at the shops to be reverted back towards the harbour. The petition has been signed by 1,484 local people.

Michael Nicks, of the West Bay Community Forum, thanked Dorset County Council for agreeing to remove the pinch point but stressed that safety issues nearer the harbour were still causing unease.

He said: "Please do not let one of the most dangerous turns on a road continue and inhibit the movement

Nelly's got it covered

ONE Bridport schoolgirl is looking forward to the pantomime Bridport more than others - her design will adorn the cover of the programmes.

Talented Nelly Wade, 10, beat over 50 entries in the competition when her design was chosen by the Mayor of Bridport.

The St Mary's Primary School pupil's design for the Bridport Pantomime Players' production of Sleeping Beauty shows a beautiful princess surrounded by fairies and an evil witch.

This is the second year that the acting group have held a competition for young people to design the programme's cover art, and judge Councillor Maggie Ray, Bridport Mayor, was impressed with the quality.

She said: "Every single entry was pretty good, especially when you consider they've been done by nine and ten-yearolds. Turn to page three

JULIAN NANGLE is a publisher, poet and former bookshop owner with, at one time, five Words Etc shops in Dorset, including Dorchester and Brid-

Over the years he has published poetry antholo gies, with some of the country's best-know names on the pages of those books. He ventured into magazines and today still earns a living from the literary world, dealing in rare books, specialising in modern first editions.

He is one of the founders of a group of poets which have recently started staging public events in Dorchester. The next gathering will be on Saturday, February 1st at 7.30pm in the King's Arms, Dorchester when the theme for the evening will be "love." The last meeting attracted around 50 peo-

■ HOW did your love of books come about?

Largely from school where I was encouraged by one of the teachers, Harry Guest, who was a published poet, featuring in Penguin Modern Poets. He taught me English and French and was rather avant garde and quite an influence on me and other boys at school.

I used to send some of my poems to my mother who was much impressed and showed them to a poet who she knew, Anthony Naumann. He took me under his wing and encouraged me. We would meet up and talk about poetry and what I had written. In many ways, became an alternative father and greatly influenced me.

■ HOW did you become involved with the book trade? I think we all realised there was little hope of making a living out of writing poetry so my mother, thinking laterally, thought that if I couldn't get into new books I could get into old books and found me a job in a bookshop.

I went off to work in a posh bookshop just off Bond Street in London where we had no end of famous people coming in. I remember delivering books to Jean Shrimpton's home and one day helping George Harrison who was looking for

AND had you continued to write?

Yes, I had a collection of poems published and sold them to everyone I could think of at eight guineas a throw. I had a hundred copies printed and managed to sell all of them. The next year I published Words Etc which featured poets such as Brian Patten which did quite well.

AND when did your first bookshop come about?

In 1975 I moved from Godalming where I had been managing a bookshop for someone else and opened the first Words Etc in Islington. I was also still publishing other people's works and did about twenty in all.

Then I decided I wanted to do some poetry reading and managed to persuade the Arts Council to give me some funding and, somehow, managed to persuade some of the big names of the day to take part. I had a friend who seemed to know everyone who helped a great deal. It was quite a strange period. I remember interviewing Vikram Seth and thinking to myself at the time how bizarre it was. I was also publishing a sort of Private Eye for the #### book trade which was also good fun. ■ WHEN did you come to Dorset?

I was together with Anna by this time and we initially bought a house in Childe Okeford, moving in 1992 to Marnhull and then, in 1992 I opened the bookshop in Blandford and then in Dorchester in 1994.

I realised I had rather cut myself off from the world so it was nice, when I got fed up of working alone, upstairs on the rare books, to be able to come down, have a coffee and talk to people.

INTERVIEW

■ WHAT were you first impressions of Dorchester?

It was rather run down at the time. Half of South Street seemed to be up for rent at that point, but there was a Blackwells bookshop at the time a couple of doors down which I thought would be good for me and was a good sign that people were at least interested in books.

Luckily it all went well and I was still doing the rare books and first editions which was some security.

AND were you made to feel welcome?

It was a bit slow at first, but Alistair Chisholm, (town crier and local tour guide) was through the door almost as soon as we opened and got me involved with the local business community. He was trying to get the Business Improvement District set up at the time and got me involved, including writing down my thoughts about how the town could make the best of itself. I remember talking about how we needed a feelgood factor, having a future people could share, that sort of thing.

And you also branched out into local publishing? In about 2005 Alistair presented me with his suggestions for a series of Dorchester Walks. I think we managed to sell about 5,000 copies in all.

There were also small publications on William Barnes and Thomas Hardy.

BUT the world changed and the likes of Amazon, must have affected your business?

It did, it's been something I would have rather done without. We had five shops at one point - one in London and others in Blandford, Bridport, Weymouth and of course

We sold them off one by one, the last, Dorchester in 2006, which in many ways came as a huge relief, but throughout the rare books have continued although that has also seen a decline and there are fewer collectors now than there

But you decided to stay in Dorchester?

Info at a glance ...

Yes although we did moved to Chichester for two years where I again ended up running a bookshop for some of that time, until we decided to come back.

There is something about Dorset and Dorchester. Our children have largely grown up here and we have good friends here. I also love the literary connections – Hardy, William Barnes, the Moule family and the Powys family and we also love the countryside and the coast.

Julian Nangle has just published "Windfalls", a collection of 36 of his poems, which is available via post at £6, including postage, via 22 Frome Terrace, Dorchester, DT1 1JQ, or can be ordered at the Custard Hall shop in Antelope Walk, Dorchester.

He said: "The bulk of all traffic, cars, buses, boats, delivery service vehicles and emergency services turn right into the harbour area. There are 130 properties on West Cliff alone, and the only way in and out of West Cliff is via the harbour area.

"When priority of movement off the West Bay Road was given to a right hand turn, no problem was ever experienced. "Now of course with

After the meeting, Councillor Tett told the View from Bridport: "We have won the battle but now we have to convince Dorset County Council and win the war. I imagine, therefore, there is much work yet to be done."

A spudtastic day!

BRIDPORT'S third annual potato day has been hailed a success.

More than 60 varieties of seed potatoes were on offer at the event, organised by local permaculture group 'plan b', which was held at the United Church Hall, East Street on Saturday morning.

Pennard Plants Nursery of Somerset, who specialise in heritage and heirloom flower, herb and vegetable seeds, brought their pop-up allotment shop to Bridport for the day.

Onion sets, shallots, garlic and fruit trees were also on offer, in addition to the huge selection of potato tubers.

Organisers didn't charge an entrance fee but allowed View from Bridport to collect for their Water Survival Box campaign on the door instead. More than £150 was taken in donations, with a further £100 coming from the cafe's profits, for which we are very grateful.

Other proceeds from the event went to Dorset Wildlife Trust.

Pennard Plants will also be bringing their pop-up shop to Drimpton Potato Day, which takes place at the village hall there on Saturday, February 8th.

Brighter future for the rural economy

a recovery has taken root in the rural economy.

Farming businesses are looking forward to a profitable 2014 with expectations for sales and profits higher than the previous 12 months, according to the Country Land and Business Association (CLA).

The Rural Economy Index, which is produced by the CLA in conjunction with rural surveyors Smiths Gore, offers a quarterly insight into the business environment of the rural

The December survey reports that financial growth spread from nonfarming businesses to the farming sector during the final third of 2013, with more farming businesses reporting rising rather than falling sales for the first time in a year.

Agricultural businesses expect profitability to be higher in the next 12 months with the net balance rising to 11 per cent.

Nine per cent of rural businesses, such as property and tourism enterprises, said they were expecting to employ more people during the coming year.

The results show that the farming sector expects to hold its own and continue to employ the same number of people as it did in the previous 12 months.

CLA South West Director John Mortimer said: "Recovery in the rural economy now seems firmly rooted and we can look forward to 2014 with greater confidence.

"With confidence hit by bad weather, poor harvests and the rising price of livestock feed, farming has been in the doldrums during the past year but for most farming businesses, the pessimism of the past 12 months has now gone, and they are now looking forward to higher sales and profits in 2014."

The Rural Economy Index is a sample of rural businesses from all regions in England and Wales. Agricultural and non-agricultural businesses are analysed separately in recognition of the fact that the sectors have different economic drivers.

Police warning on flood risks

POLICE have been advising Dorset residents of the problems caused by careless driving through flood

They have also warned of the risk of landslides following the long period of adverse weather.

Dorset Police have said that on many occasions large vehicles, similar to four-wheel drive cars, are being driven through standing water at speed creating a wash that penetrates flood defences of nearby properties.

In some areas of the county some drivers are ignoring road closure signs to drive through floods, exacerbating problems caused by flooding and adding to the worry and distress of affected home owners.

Superintendent Jared Parkin, of Dorset Police, said: "Motorists continuing to drive at speed through flood water are causing significant bow waves and further flooding to houses already saturated with water. Houses, that so far have escaped flooding, are being flooded by these waves.

"Understandably, this is extremely upsetting for those affected who are already battling against this

terrible weather."

All road users are advised not to drive through flood water or ignore road closure signs. Where ground water is present on the roads and cannot be avoided motorists are advised to take great care and to drive slowly Superintendent Parkin added: "Roads are closed because they are impassable. Do not ignore the signs, to do so is dangerous.

"All road closures are assessed regularly and will be lifted as soon as it is safe to do so. The patience of the public in this matter is appreciated."

The force is also advising of the risk of landslides in the county following the adverse weather.

Landslides often take place after wet weather as there is a delay in the rainwater falling and soaking into the ground. Cliffs and areas that have clays at the base and porous sandstone or limestone at the top are prone to landslides because the water soaks down through the cliff top but cannot pass through the clay.

Orchard ceremony this Saturday

THE sounds of drums, cans, rattles and whistles will be heard in Bridport this weekend during a wassailing ceremony.

Bridport Community Orchard is hosting the event on Sunday, January 19th, from 3pm.

People are invited to come along with anything that can make a noise to scare away bad spirits.

Wassailing in orchards is an ancient tradition, intended to rid the trees of evil beings and awaken the trees, ensuring a good harvest.

Wyld Morris will lead the music and dancing in Bridport, where hot cider and apple juice will be available.

Admission to the event – held in the community orchard behind St Mary's Church, in South Street – is free, but donations are requested.

The group behind Bridport Community Orchard is holding its annual general meeting in Bridport Town Hall on Wednesday, January 22nd, at 7:30pm.

The group will be presenting a slideshow of information, and would like people to come along and tell them what they would like to see happen in 2014. Refreshments will be available.

ocal plan to be discussed next week

THE development of the draft local plan for West Dorset, Weymouth and Portland will be discussed at an exploratory meeting later this month.

Next steps for the plan will be considered on Wednesday, January 22nd, at 10am.

The meeting was requested by the Government Planning Inspector to give council representatives a chance to address his initial comments and concerns before a public examination of the draft plan can take place.

The decision to hold a meeting could result in the drafting process taking longer to complete, warned the leader of West Dorset District Council

Councillor Robert Gould said: "It is extremely frustrating that completion of the joint local plan could be delayed by this intervention.

"We have followed the process properly in a professional manner with our partners at Weymouth & Portland Borough Council

'We have taken the views of local people into account following substantial public consultation and changed the plan accordingly to reflect these views where possible.

"The message we appear to be getting is that the plan is not ambitious enough in terms of housing development, but we have applied nationally recognised figures from the Office for National Statistics (ONS) while still respecting the views of local people where possi-

Have your say on extraction plans

DORSET County Council is encouraging people to have their say after possible locations for future mineral extraction in the county were unveiled.

People can make comments on two documents the Mineral Sites Plan and the Waste Plan Issues Paper - before the deadline of Thursday, February

The eight-week consultation period is a chance for residents and other stakeholders to understand where the suggested extraction sites are and to have their say before any decisions are made by the county council.

Mike Garrity, head of minerals and waste planning policy at Dorset County Council, said: "It is very important that residents and stakeholders express their views on the 44 suggested extraction sites now, as their opinions will shape the basis of more detailed appraisals of each site and ultimately could help form the decisions made by the county coun-

The county council, in partnership with Bournemouth Borough Council and the Borough of Poole, is in the early stages of producing the Mineral Sites Plan document that, once adopted, will set out potential locations for the extraction of sand, gravel, building stone and ball clay to meet national, regional and local requirements.

The 44 sites listed in the plan were suggested by the minerals industry and landowners.

Councillor Hilary Cox, chairman of the Bournemouth, Dorset and Poole minerals and waste joint advisory committee, said: "Future recycling and waste facilities for Dorset should be high on all our agendas. The negative impact on the environment by sending waste to landfill is unsustainable and we need to find appropriate solutions.

"The questions asked in the Waste Plan Issues paper will address such problems."

To comment on either or both documents visit www.dorsetforyou.com/mwdf or complete a response form, which can be requested from the minerals and waste planning policy team on 01305 228585/224675 or by emailing mwdf@dorsetcc.

A series of public exhibitions will take place around Dorset, where copies of both documents can be seen and council officers will be on hand to answer

Orchestra looks to boost numbers

MUSICIANS are being sought to bolster numbers in a Dorset orchestra.

Following its recent successful concert at Bridport Town Hall in support of Barnardos children's charity, the West Dorset Community Orchestra will be beginning a new term on Wednesday, January 15th.

Now the group is keen to recruit new members into its ranks. The orchestra is for all ages, playing mainly light classical and popular

Conductor Walter Brewster said: "The aim of the orchestra is to encourage local people of all abilities and ages who want to play in a fun environment on a weekly basis in the community."

The orchestra meets for rehearsals on Wednesday evenings at the Christian Fellowship Hall, East Street, between 6:30pm and 7:30pm. The hall is at the rear of the car park.

Mr Brewster added: "The emphasis is on musical enjoyment and we perform two concerts a year at local venues. Preparing for our concerts gives us a goal throughout each term and the concerts have been well supported by Bridport people."

For anyone wishing to try out rehearsing with the orchestra, the first session is free.

Mrs Maynard has been campaigning in Bridport, trying to explain the importance of taking part in this year's vote, highlighting the impact of the EU on Dorset resident's lives

She said: "Despite the fact that 70

The Dorset Road Safe 'No Excuse' team announced its Bike Lights initiative in November in a bid to reduce the number of cycle casualties on the county's roads.

Teams of officers carried out a series of targeted operations across the county and actively stopped cyclists found riding without lights across different parts of the county.

A total of 73 children and young people were issued with a warning on the consequences of riding in the dark without lights and visibility clothing.

Traffic officers then fitted their bikes with a free set of lights and gave the rider a 'No Excuse' reflec-

They were also issued with an information letter to hand to their parents or quardians.

A total of 41 adults were caught riding without lights and were issued with a £50 Fixed Penalty Notice and a Defect Notice.

The riders were told they could take their cycle to a police station within seven days to prove lights had been fitted and their ticket would be cancelled. A total of 18 adults took that option.

Inspector Matt Butler, of Dorset Police's Traffic Unit, said: "The Bike Lights initiative has proved successful in Dorset by helping to spread the message about the dangers of cycling in the dark without lights.

"The majority of young people realised they should have lights once they were reminded and all thanked the officers for their lights, florescent kit and information leaflet.

"More young people now have the tools they need to ride safely around the county.

"I would like to remind all cyclists they should wear a helmet, light coloured or fluorescent clothing in daylight and reflective clothing with bike lights in the dark. This will make sure that they are seen by other road users."

Further Bike Lights initiatives will take place in the county, including in Bridport, county until

New Lord-Lieutenant for Dorset Early start for

THE new Lord-Lieutenant for Dorset has been appointed by the Queen, succeeding the incumbent when she retires this weekend.

Former leader of Dorset County Council, Angus Campbell, will step into the role when Mrs Anthony Pitt-Rivers stands down from the position she's held since 2006.

Mr Campbell served for a number of years in the Army Air Corps, and has since focused on his farming interests and local politics.

As well as leading the county council, a position he left last year, he was also the leader of North Dorset District Council.

He was also chairman of both the Dorset Olympic Board and Strategic Leaders Board for the South West. He has also been a governor of several schools in the county.

Mr Campbell said: "It is extremely humbling to have been honoured with the responsibility of representing Her Majesty The Queen in this wonderful county.

"Dorset and its people are remarkable in so many ways and I am very much looking forward to working across the county within this very special role.

"I am very aware of the tremendous work that has been done by Mrs Valerie Pitt-Rivers over recent years and it is such an honour to be chosen to succeed her."

Mrs Pitt-Rivers, who became the first woman to hold the office in Dorset, said: "I am delighted that Angus Campbell has been appointed as the new Lord-Lieutenant of Dorset.

"He has already done a lot for the county in his work as leader of Dorset County Council, and has a good knowledge and a great love of Dorset.

"I have had such an interesting time as Lord-Lieutenant, and could not have enjoyed it

"I am sure Angus Campbell will equally appreciate the privilege of undertaking this role."

Debbie Ward, clerk to the Lieutenancy and chief executive of Dorset County Council, said: "I am very pleased that Angus Campbell has been appointed to succeed Mrs Pitt-Rivers as Lord-Lieutenant of Dorset.

"Mrs Pitt-Rivers has been a wonderful representative of Her Majesty The Queen in Dorset and will be long remembered for all the work she has done for the county.

"In Angus Campbell we are fortunate to have a successor who is as knowledgeable as he is passionate about the county and I look forward to working with him in his new role."

Mr Campbell lives in Iwerne Minster with his wife, Carola, and has two daughters.

The meal will be served in the church building in East Street car park and will be followed by a short video talk provocatively entitled 'Christianity: Boring, • Untrue and Irrelevant?'

A lively discussion is then expected to follow. No charge will be made for attending and no-one participating will be under any obligation.

However, everyone who finds the taster session interesting or challenging will be invited to attend a series of similar meetings taking place on the next ten Sunday mornings.

Enquirers will then enjoy more early meals together followed by video talks and discussions covering all aspects of the Christian faith.

The course has been arranged to end at Easter when all participants will be invited to join with church members in celebrating that great festival.

Course organiser Derek Finch said: "This is a tried and tested course which has been found to satisfy a great need in our society.

"People are searching for reliable landmarks to guide them through life, but they remain blissfully unaware of the merits of the Christian faith which inspired great men and women in previous generations.

Big increase in pothole reports after heavy rainfall

OVER one thousand issues relating to the road maintenance have been reported to Dorset County Council since the start of the year.

The highways maintenance team has been under intense pressure, with cracks and potholes appearing in many of the county's road surfaces due to recent heavy rainfall.

According to the council, crews are working flat out to tackle the latest wave of road defects as residents use the 'report a problem' function on www.dorsetforyou.com to log a variety of highways issues.

Andrew Martin, head of the Dorset County Council's highways operations, said: "The recent extreme weather has presented us with exceptional demand on our services but we have 35 teams currently deployed to address the numerous incidents and defects that have appeared in recent week, these include pothole repair, ditch clearing, high pressure drain clearance and gully emptying.

"We aim to repair potholes that present an immediate hazard to motorists within 32 hours, and all other defects within 28 days. With the present number of reports we are doing our best to keep to this commitment."

To report a highways issue visit www.dorsetforyou.com/winter and click the report a problem link.

There is a telephone line for emergency highways issues, which has also been busy with a high volume of calls. The number to call during office hours is 01305 221020, and out-of-hours it is 0845 0678 999.

The council has also reminded motorists to heed all road signs, and plan their journeys in advance.

Andrew Martin added: "We have had a number of instances where people have ignored our warning signs, or even removed them, and driven into heavily flooded areas

"Even if they don't damage their vehicles, the waves they make while going through the water can end up washing into people's gardens and even their properties.

"Signs are there for a reason, we would ask people to allow more time for their journeys at the moment and find alternative routes to avoid flooded areas."

Last Tango in Bridport . . . where do you read yours?

FORMER Bridport pharmacist David Conroy and his fiancé, Hazel Reeves, with a copy of the View from Bridport after moving to New Zealand to get married.

Last month the View from Bridport reported that the couple, who originally met in 1963 and lost contact, were engaged and moving to the other side of the world after finding each other online.

Their story drew comparisons with hit romantic drama series Last Tango in Halifax, which tells of the story of two septuagenarians who plan to marry after a 60 year absence, having been reunited through an online social network.

David and Hazel are pictured on Conical Hill, just above the mountain resort of Hanmer Springs where she has a holiday home.

David said: "We managed to get up there in between showers as Christmas here was unusually changeable with rain from Christmas to New Year.

Charity's call to put unwanted Christmas presents to good use

UNWANTED Christmas presents can be donated to a regional autism and mental health charity throughout January.

Autism Wessex is calling on Dorset residents to help them by donating items which they can use as raffle prizes and auction lots, which help raise vital funds for the organisation.

Paul Reade, community and events fundraiser with Autism Wessex, said: "We all receive gifts which, although given with the best of intentions, aren't always suitable for us as gifts for one reason or another.

"We are urging the local community to generously donate any unwanted items, whether it be a bottle of wine, a toiletries gift set, unwanted books, DVDs, vouchers, unwanted chocolate boxes or biscuits, et cetera, to drop them into our Christchurch or Dorchester office for our raffle collection."

The charity provides high-quality services for people affected by autism, including specialist education, social care and advocacy services. It has been working throughout the county for over 45 years.

Mr Reade added: "We do ask the items are in perfect condition and we will use the items at events we will be holding throughout the year to help raise vital funds to continue to support those people affected by autism within our community.

"Please don't let items gather dust when they could help us make a real difference."

Seeking stories for town radio project

AS PART of its new community radio venture, Bridport Arts Centre's Bridport FM project is seeking stories about two of the town's important cultural venues - the Lyric Theatre and the Literary & Scientific Institute.

Drop-in story sharing sessions will be held at the Lyric Theatre and the arts centre later this month with a view to finding stories that might make interesting radio features.

Kate Wilson, the arts centre's learning coordinator, said: "We want to hear from a wide range of people who remember attending classes or performances at the Lyric or using the L&SI when it was the town's library - or even earlier if anyone remembers that far back

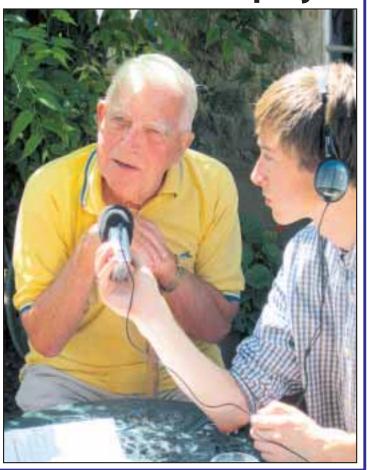

"It doesn't matter how small the anecdote is - we just want to build up a comprehensive picture of how the venues were used to create a vivid picture for the Bridport FM listeners later this year."

The story sharing sessions will run between 3pm and 7pm on January 20th at the Lyric Theatre and January 27th at Bridport Arts Centre. Free refreshments will be available and the project welcomes participation from anyone aged 15 or over.

Funded by the Heritage Lottery Fund, Bridport FM plans to map the cultural history of Bridport through the creation of radio programmes exploring the rich heritage of the town.

All the programmes made will be broadcast on a temporary radio station, Bridport FM, which will take to the airwaves for one week from September 15th-21st.

For further information about Bridport FM including how you can get involved, please contact Kate Wilson at kate@bridportarts.com or on 01308 427183.

Advice to keep children safe online

THE increased use of smartphones and tablets by children has led Dorset Police to issue online safety advice.

A surge is expected in the use of the devices by younger people after they have been received as Christmas gifts, and the force is warning of the risks of accessing inappropriate websites, losing control over pictures and videos and giving away personal information – as well as communicating with strangers.

Bullying online is also a risk and causes distress and fear to children and young people.

Internet Safety Officer for the Safe Schools and Communities Team (SSCT) Mark Howell advises parents to take an interest in their children's online activities, and suggests that parents encourage their children to show them how the websites they are using work.

Mark Howell said: "Discuss the risks and benefits of these sites. Children should know that if they are worried, they can talk to their parents or another appropriate adult. Parents need to be alert for the signs of Online Protection Centre online grooming or cyber bullying.

"Your child may be more private and secretive than usual. They may minimise screens, not engage with the family and spend long amounts of time on their mobile device or take the device to their bedroom."

The police team run courses in schools and educated just over 33,000 young people aged five to 16-plus last year in internet safety.

These courses include messages about keeping information personal safe, and encouraging young people to consider safe social networking and responsible online behaviour.

The Safe Schools and Communities Team also hold classes for parents, delivering internet safety sessions. Parents can either contact local schools or Dorset Police direct on 101 for more information on these

Dorset Police also have a newly formed dedicated team to investigate reports of online child abuse, working with the Child Exploitation and and partner agencies to safeguard children.

Deputy Head of Public Protection Chief Inspector Chris Naughton said: "The internet can be a fantastic place for children and young people, where they can talk to friends, be creative and have fun.

"However, just like in the real world sometimes things can go wrong. I would urge parents to visit the CEOP website for up to date advice on how to keep their children safe online.'

If parents think that their child has been affected by their online communications they are urged to either contact the police on 101, report their concerns via CEOP or use one of the many reporting portals on social media

Age UK helping people stay in their own home

AGE UK is offering a paid-for home support service to help people stay in their home.

The service is currently available in Dorchester, Weymouth and the surrounding areas.

It does not offer any form of personal care but can help with household tasks such as cleaning, dusting, vacuuming, clothes washing, ironing, changing bed clothes; moderate pruning of trees, hedges and shrubs, planting and weeding, sweeping up leaves, mowing lawns, border edging.

Help is also available for shopping, de-cluttering, assisting with paperwork, filing, paying bills and meal preparation.

The cost for the service is £12.50 an hour with mileage for shopping and other errands charged at 40p per mile. The minimum length of time Age UK can provide is one hour.

For more information contact Lucy or Carol on 01305 269444.

Road safety first

HUNDREDS of Dorset children have begun receiving life-saving lessons in road safety after schools responded positively to help from a Dorset law firm's charity arm.

Battens Solicitors Charitable Trust has made up to £18,000 available for schools through its campaign.

Individual donations of £200 were pledged to more than 40 schools to spend as they wish on road safety

Others are able to access a dedicated resource kit with a 'street feet' simulated road layout.

The kit helps children to learn through hands-on, guided role plays involving mini road signs, traffic lights and tabards.

Some of the kits have been made available on a 'free loan' basis thanks to a tie-up with the Weymouthbased SafeWise safety education partnership.

The high level of demand has resulted in the loan packs currently being booked out until the end of February, although Battens have pledged to ensure they continue to be available after that.

Among the schools to receive its own resource pack is Southill Primary and Holy Trinity in Weymouth, Manor Park, Prince of Wales and Damers First School in Dorchester, Symondsbury in Bridport, St Andrew's in Preston, Cerne Abbas First School and Sherborne Primary.

Battens decided to focus on children's safety awareness after a huge reduction in the Department for Transport's national budget for primary age road safety promotion.

Hannah Brown, a personal injury solicitor at Battens, said: "We work hard at Battens to achieve rightful compensation and access to rehabilitation for road safety victims every day.

"This initiative is close to my heart, both as a personal injury lawyer and as a mother, and we are pleased to do our bit to ensure road safety lessons are instilled in our children from an early age.

Battens Charitable Trust was set up to aid good causes in the community. Last year the trust donated more than £31,000 to charities throughout Dorset and

IN 2013, the View From welcomed two new ventures to Dorchester, County Town Butchers and Gilded Teapot's Tea Tasting Parlour and celebrated fifty years of another, Clockhouse Jewellers.

COUNTY TOWN BUTCHERS

OPENED DECEMBER 2013

STUART Jury opened County Town Butchers in the Hardy Arcade in December and was delighted by the response.

"So many people have said they are pleased to see a traditional butcher back in the town centre. It's very encouraging," he said.

With 35 years' experience in the trade Stuart has worked for a number of local businesses including Case and Sons in Shaftesbury, Denhay Farms and S. J Norman of Bridport.

He started at the age of 15 in Winterboune Abbas with a wholesale butchery firm which was in the vil-

'I come from a traditional butchery background and hope to offer good service and find the time to have a chat, which is what people often want," said Mr Jury.

His affiliations with Norman's will continue with the Bridport company supplying much of his meat, together with other local companies. His aim is to offer as much local produce as possible and will prepare his own cuts and make his own sausages.

Stuart did look at other premises, including a former town centre butchers, before deciding on the Hardy Arcade premises.

He and other family members, including his father in law, Ray Whitfield, worked hard, and long hours, to get the building ready after taking over the lease on November 13th.

Ray, also with a butchery background, will be helping with the business when needed.

"I'm hoping the location is a good one; it's under cover and very close to the town centre's main car park making it very convenient to park and shop here," said Stuart.

County Town Butchers will initially be open six days a week, so pop in to make a change from the super-

GILDED TEAPOT TEA TASTING PARLOUR OPENED NOVEMBER 2013

"I can't believe it has been three years since we found our home in Tudor Arcade's old tobacconists. Time has flown by. Since 2010 we have been personally sourcing, selecting and hand blending the finest loose leaf and single estate teas from around the globe. We have built wonderful relationships with artisan producers and importers to shine a light on some of the world's finest unsung tea gardens.

"One thing I have always dreamed of is having a space for a calm, relaxing tea sanctuary where lovers of tea could sit at a tasting table and explore the different teas and infusions with us, as well as being able to take them home and enjoy. We had been looking for the right place for over a year, and I'm thrilled to say that we have finally found it" - Jo Davies, Gilded Teapot founder.

CLOCKHOUSE JEWELLERS

OPENED OCTOBER 1963

CLOCKHOUSE was set up in the sixties by Mr and Mrs Burgess (senior) after many years working in the trade in Birmingham.

Mr Burgess had suffered an injury to his leg during the Second World War, and subsequently needed a job where he didn't have to stand all day. So on returning home to Wolverhampton trained in Birmingham's jewellery quarter. Mr Burgess then worked for Samuels jewellers for several years, until in 1957 he decided to move his family to Dorchester where there was a vacancy at the local branch of Samuel's.

In October 1963, Mr and Mrs Burgess decided to set up their own business in the town. He paid rent of just £5 2s6d a fortnight for the shop in Maud Road. In 1965 the business moved to South Street, then to Tudor arcade in 1971, and finally to its current location in Durngate street in 1984.

The business has been family run since it opened with the current team made up of Fred and Anne Burgess, his son Jonathan and daughters Clara and Amy. Fred is a clock restoration specialist and is part of the Clockmakers Guild and Antiquarian Horological

Services at Clockhouse include:

- Clock and watch restoration
- · Sourcing items of jewellery and watches
- · Bespoke jewellery
- Antique jewellery
- Jewellery and watch repairs

For fifty years, the Burgess family have been providing good old-fashioned service, with a friendly approach. So make time to pop in and help Clockhouse on the road to the next fifty years.

Location, location, location... Alan Carr to perform in Bridport

STAFF from the Dorset County Council Ancient Technology Centre have been commissioned by English Heritage to build five authentic Neolithic houses at the new Stonehenge visitor

The team, with the help of English Heritage volunteers, will construct the houses using the same tools and lo-cally-sourced materials as their prehistoric counterparts.

Starting on January 27th, they will have just 12 weeks to construct the houses and fit them out with plank built furniture including beds, doors and storage shelves.

They will form part of the visitor centre's outdoor gallery, which is due to open in April 2014.

ATC manager Luke Winter, who is leading the project, said: "It's great to be working on this unique project and exciting to think that we're creating these Neolithic buildings that will be seen by over one million visitors to Stonehenge

"Each house will be different and will bring history to life, helping visitors under-stand how Neolithic farmers lived 4,600 years ago while they built a landscape and monuments dedicated to their

The Ancient Technology Centre at Cranborne is an educational facility which provides a unique blend of hands-on ancient skills and craft activities, such as blacksmithing and fire-making, and an opportunity for children of all ages to experience the realities of life in the past.

Councillor Toni Coombs, cabinet member for education at Dorset County Council, said: "Staff at the Ancient Technology Centre beat off strong competition from other organisations with their unique blend of research, reconstruction and work with volunteers. "This high profile project will put the centre on the map and, with the

the national curriculum, we hope that more schools will take the opportunity to visit the centre in Cranborne and learn about history through unique, hands-on experience.

COMEDIAN and TV host Alan Carr will be performing in Bridport this March, it has been announced.

BAFTA award-winning Carr, who first became known for hosting The Friday Night Project with Justin Lee Collins, will be taking to the stage in the Bridport Arts Centre on Tuesday, March 10th.

He is already well known on the stand-up comedy circuit, having performed two acclaimed arena tours, Tooth Fairy and Spexy Beast.

Carr is perhaps most famous for Alan Carr: Chatty Man, his Channel 4 chat show which regularly gets over two million viewers.

His previous guests include Russell Brand, Colin Farrell and will.i.am, and last year he signed an exclusive deal, keeping him with the channel until

Tickets for the show are not yet on sale, but further information will be released on the Bridport Arts Centre website, www.bridport-arts.com, and their Facebook page later this week.

Vomiting bug closes wards

Energy volunteers needed for scheme

VOLUNTEERS are needed locally to help people hunt out the best fuel deals and assist them in switching suppliers.

The Dorset Energy Advice Centre and Dorset Community Action is recruiting volunteers who can help make it easier for people to switch - potentially saving hundreds of pounds a year.

They say the work would appeal to those who already help with vulnerable consumers, including young people, elderly people, and people on low incomes.

This is an opportunity to help develop your skills and knowledge and to help a large number of people have a safer and warmer winter," said Simon Thompson from Dorset Community Action.

The scheme is part of the The Big Energy Saving Network Challenge which aims to provide a minimum of 20 outreach sessions to at least 200 vulnerable consumers across Dorset.

"To help deliver this, we are looking for at least two keen, outgoing volunteers to help. We are looking for people who enjoy talking with members of the public and who think they would be comfortable talking to a group of about a dozen people as well as to individuals.

"All the materials, including the presentation, will be provided, and the volunteers will receive training from our Big Energy Saving Network Champions. The volunteers will assist our Champions in delivering the sessions.

It is expected that the Big Energy Savings Network volunteers will spend two to three hours training, and then a similar amount of time again for each of the sessions they volunteer to help deliver. Each volunteer will need to be prepared to help deliver at least two sessions.

Sherborne Turf

FROM our location in the picturesque village of Trent, Sherborne Turf has been supplying the gardeners of Dorset, Somerset, Hampshire and Wiltshire with quality lawn turf and garden products for over 35 years. Our turf is grown in high quality farmland which forms part of The Trent Estate, using a unique blend of grasses that will knit together to form a firm base, negating the need for potentially harmful netting that could pose a trip hazard and be costly to Supplying the local area with fresh turf cut to order, low 'turf miles' mean our grass is green in more ways than one!

At Sherborne Turf, our product range has expanded to meet the needs of our customers. Garden soils are stored under cover in winter ready for delivery in bulk bags, along with a variety of top dressing, bark, mulch and compost for the serious gardener.

Deliveries are made using our own fleet of vehicles and drivers experienced in the handling of turf and associated products. While the trade standard for deliveries is 'kerb-side', our drivers understand this is not always practical for your gardens, and so we will always endeavour to place your items as conveniently as possible for you, subject to suitable access.

All of the staff at Sherborne Turf have experience of the items we sell, so for assistance on any aspect of your garden project, please give us a call on 01935 850388. Office hours are 8am to 6pm Monday to Friday, and Saturday mornings during busy periods.

John Bright Fencing

JOHN Bright Fencing was formed in 1982 by John and Bridget Bright and in 2003 was joined by their daughter Beth in the family business.

Initially the business was erecting fences but in 1994 larger premises were purchased allowing us to open a Country Store at Salway Ash. Our site also comprises of a workshop.

Therefore, John Bright is now your one stop shop...for sheds, fencing, gates, animal feed, everything for the householder, gardener, fencer, small holder or farmer!

When you visit our Country Store you will be greeted by Davina, Chris, Philip or Jamie where you can browse or they are happy to give advice on fencing or any of our products.

The fencing is not just wooden, as now galvanised parkland railing is very popular, together with chain link fencing, rabbit wire - to keep them in or out, stock fencing and barbed wire for the garden or field.

Our delivery service is twice weekly.
We have three teams of fully experienced fencers who erect all types of fencing, we offer a free esti-mating service, where either John or Chris will visit your property giving sound advice which will be followed by a written estimate.

In the workshop, our competent carpenters turn out hardwood garden furniture, softwood and hardwood gates and doors to any design, dog kennels, poultry housing etc.

Our display area has all sizes of apex and pent sheds on display together with lovely Summer houses, which allow you to enjoy the sun but keep out of the sneaky winds, also picnic tables, arches, garden panels and animal housing.

All in all well worth a visit..

Please visit our large display area to purchase your materials, or why not let's quote for carrying out the complete job by one of our experienced fencing teams.

Volunteer Shop Manager required Lifeboats

For many people, buying something from an RNLI shop will be the first time that they come into contact with our Charity, and as a volunteer shop manager you could be the person that engages them to support us now, and in the future. Your welcoming nature will ensure that our shop in Lyme Regis is a friendly and attractive place to buy.

Customer Service, stock display, replenishment, housekeeping and cash handling are all tasks that you can expect. Could you work with the volunteer shop team to make our customers experience an inspiring one?

Experience is not essential as full training would be given, so if you have some time to support the RNLI please call Julie Bawden on 07818 688611.

PAPA LE GAL REFORM!

Lyme's favourite band announce re-launch show at the Marine Theatre

LYME Regis's favourite band – the dance-making Papa Le Gal – are to reform, with a re-launch show on Saturday, January 25th at the Marine Theatre, Lyme Regis. After two years off the road the sunshine-sounding five-piece will delight their fan base and music lovers with the news that due to public demand they are turning professional at last.

A huge hit among concert-goers, their unique sound of energised samba fun blended with white funk and Afro rhythms, intoxicating dancers wherever they played. The band rapidly became a must-see attraction on the West Country music

The band, hailed by hit-maker and BBC DJ Tom Robinson as 'one of the hottest bands around' and widely tipped for success by music critics, will be returning to play a special revival gig.

Their debut EP, Voodoo, released in 2011, won national radio airplay and they were invited to perform a live session on BBC Radio 6.

Video and sound crews will be brought in for the event from London and the South-West to record the entire show for YouTube and TV promotion, and professional set designers are being hired to give the concert a Carnival theme.

Tickets for Papa Le Gal's show at the Marine Theatre will cost £7.50, available through the box office on 01297 442138 and online at www.marinetheatre.com

UNEXPECTED DUO LAUNCH NEW ALBUM IN BRIDPORT

BRIDPORT based musicians Steve Jones and Chloe Evans-Lippett describe themselves as "an unexpected duo" due to their different musical backgrounds and age gap. However, these differences have worked in their favour as they have produced an album of breathtaking beautiful and intricately constructed songs - which they will be debuting at Bridport Arts Centre on the February 7th.

Their music on their debut album 'Songbird' stands somewhere between the old and the new, with a jazzy bluesy vibe, but at the same time includes elements of bright and brilliant commercial pop. Songbird features ten local musicians; Julie Dunn, Charlotte Storey, Stompin' Dave, Dan Anderson, Laurie Higgins, Jack Revy, Michael Grew, Simon Hartung, Andy Leppard and Anne Rickard, and many of these musicians will be joining them to bring the album to life on stage.

Steve said: "We originally came together touring covers including old jazz standards, however, a sudden onset of health problems meant they we were unable to gig. We really enjoyed playing together, so decided to continue with recording music - but this time by writing our own songs.

"Over the past year we have recorded an albums worth of material, with many local musicians contributing to the tracks."

The music on Songbird has been informed and enriched by their many experiences, showing that adversity can open doors as much as it can close them. Chloe and Steve were so pleased with what they had produced that they felt it worth putting on one major performance to promote the album.

Chloe said that "We've been really surprised at how well received the songs have been and are looking forward to playing them live to an audience in the Arts Centre."

The evening starts with the original and entertaining songs of "Portico", a song-writing duo from Poole featuring Sonya Lidiard and Andy Albray.

The doors open at 7.30 p.m. on Friday, February 7th at Bridport Arts Centre.

Tickets £8 adv. or £10 on the door and are available from the box office on 01308 424204 and from Bridport Music, The Bookshop and Fruits of the Earth.

Pip Utton is Chaplin

FROME-based actor Pip Utton is a much loved performer on the Artsreach circuit, with his fascinating portrayals of well-known figures such as Hitler, Churchill and Dickens touring to great acclaim over recent years.

Focusing on a true genius of the cinema, Utton is back this spring to explore the life of Charlie Chaplin behind the façade of his character the 'Tramp' – the creation that made him the highest paid actor of his time and opened the doors of society and celebrity. Accused in later years of sexual perversion by the press, vilified for his treatment of ex-wives and branded a communist, Chaplin had his American vise revoked and he settled in Switzerland, where he lived out the rest of his life with his wife Oona and their children.

Chaplin had created an image of himself for public consumption that hid the darker sides of his personality. Using cleverly produced film footage, Utton steps in and out of Chaplin's world, between the reality and the creation.

'Chaplin' is a captivating exposure of the life of one the only men in history to produce, direct, edit, perform in and compose the score for his own films. An Edinburgh Fringe favourite, and highly acclaimed by theatre critics, Pip Utton is one to watch, and where better than in the intimacy of a village hall?

Pip Utton performs his one man show at West Stafford Village Hall this Friday, January 17th, at 7:30pm. For more details and to book call 01305 261984. Utton will also perform Chaplin in Burton Bradstock on Saturday, March 1st.

Swedish singer Annika Skoogh launches new Jazz Café programme in Bridport

ANNIKA Skoogh will launch the 2014 Jazz Café programme at the Bridport Arts Centre on Friday, January 24th, with her scintillating vocal style, accompanied by Philip Clouts at the piano.

Born in South America and raised in Sweden, Annika grew up singing in various church and school choirs from a young age, however, it was not until she moved to England that she started to perform with local jazz, soul and funk bands and has recently formed her own bands.

Annika is a self taught professional singer and although she has no formal musical training, she demonstrates a skilful ability to interpret songs with an effortless natural style. Her voice has been described as possessing a distinctive, dynamic sound with a warm and soulful timbre.

Whilst Jazz is her primary focus, Annika also sings Latin, Soul, Funk, Blues and Gospel and commits to each song and style with great passion and energy. With her love of languages, multilinguist Annika adds another dimension to her performances by sometimes singing jazz songs in different languages.

Annika's passion for music and performance have led to gigs at the Plymouth Barbican International Jazz & Blues Festival, Teignmouth Jazz Festival, Bude Jazz Festival, Damourth Music Festival and many more. Highlights to date are singing alongside Buster Cooper and Art Baron (Art Baron has performed with Bruce Springsteen, Buddy Rich and Stevie Wonder) former members of the Duke Ellington Orchestra, with the 9 piece band Ellingtonia at an International Duke Ellington Festival in London; and singing with the legendary Kathy Stobart (who performed regularly with the late Art Pepper and Humphrey Lyttelton to name but a few) with the band Arcadia and singing for MP Ben Bradshaw at his birthday party by special request.

"Seriously good talent ... her rich, lustrous & heartfelt vocals remind me of a dancer who can leap and twist to any height or position with precision, grace and ease"

Outstanding exhibition in last two weeks at Dorset County Museum

WITH only two weeks to go before it ends, don't miss a final opportunity to visit the current exhibition at Dorset County Museum: 'The Heart that Fed'.

The exhibition features the work of two Dorset artists – Nell Race and Angelika Seik who first met in 1998. Some years later they met again – Nell moved to Corfe Castle in 2005 and found her house was just a five minute walk from Angelika's.

Painter Nell Race explains, "During one Dorset Art

Week we both opened our studios and arranged a Prize Draw between us to pull in the crowds – it worked really well and we have been wanting to exhibit together ever since." They now meet regularly to talk about current work and projects, but painting and sculpting still consumes the major part of their days.

The exhibition show-cases the work of these two artists who have sculpted and painted all their lives, without a break. Sculptor Angelika Seik said, "We are two women and two mothers who have brought up families but have never abandoned a shared profound and essential need for artistic expression."

The title of the exhibition, The Heart that Fed, is a quote from Shelley – it captures the transformation that takes place from an initial feeling for a subject through the artistic process into a piece of art. Nell's abstract paintings shown alongside the striking figurative sculptures made by Angelika create a truly powerful show.

The Heart that Fed runs at Dorset County Museum until February 1 2014. Entry to the exhibition is free and many of the pieces are for sale. The Museum is open from 10am to 4pm, Monday to Saturday. For more information check the website on www.dorsetcountymuseum.org.

Five Winter Vegetable Tagine

With apricots, toasted almonds and yoghurt

We love Tagines at Tierra Kitchen! There is something deeply captivating about the rich, almost sweet floral flavours. With it's fresh seasonal vegetables, toasted almonds and rich yoghurt, a Tagine is a full flavoured aromatic Winter warmer, while providing all the nutrients for a balanced meal. This is designed to be ready in an hour.

Serves 4 very generously

Equipment needed;

A 3.5 litre capacity Saucepan, if you have a Tagine and wish to finish in the oven, Great!

Ingredients:

50 gm Olive oil

- 1 Large onion, peeled and diced
- 4 Cloves garlic, peeled and finely chopped
- 1.5 cm Fresh ginger, peeled and finely chopped
- 2 Small red chillies, (optional), seeded and finely chopped
- 1 Heaped dessert spoon each of ground fennel, coriander and cumin
- 1.5 Dessert spoon's tomato puree
- 4 Sticks celery, washed and cut into 1cm chunks
- 1 Medium leek, washed and cut into 1cm chunks
- 3 Medium carrots, peeled and cut into 1cm chunks
- 1 Medium to large sweet potato, peeled and cut into 1cm chunks
- 1 Medium to large parsnip, peeled and cut into 1cm chunks
- 1Good sprig of thyme
- 1.2 litres Vegetable stock (do use stock cubes/powder and dissolve in water)
- 200gm "ready to eat" dried apricots, (if ordinary dried apricots, cook for 10 minutes longer) 80gm flaked almonds
- 100 plus gm natural yoghurt (according to taste)
- 300gm cous cous

Method

Place the saucepan on a low to medium heat, add the olive oil and the onion, sauté for 3 minutes until the onion is beginning to become translucent, then add the garlic, ginger, chilli and the ground spices. Sauté for 3 minutes more. Now stir in the tomato puree, and add the celery, leek and sweet potato. Sauté and stir for 4 more minutes.

Now add the carrot, parsnip and thyme, sauté and stir for 4 more minutes so all the vegetables are coated in the spices , tomato and seasonings. Add the stock and bring to the boil. Turn the Tagine down to a simmer, place a lid on the saucepan and allow to cook slowly for 30 minutes.

Meanwhile toast the almonds to a golden brown under a grill.

Now, prepare some cous cous to serve with the Tagine; Bring 330ml water to the boil with halve a teaspoon of salt and 2 dessert spoons of olive oil. Place 300gm cous cous in a good sized bowl, evenly pour over the boiling water. Cover the bowl with cling film so the cous cous "steams" and absorbs all the water. Let stand for 15 minutes, then break and "fluff up" using a wooden spoon or better still by using your fingers Moroccan style.

Add the apricots to the Tagine, give a good stir and simmer slowly for a further ten minutes. Season to taste with salt and pepper.

Serve the Tagine with plenty of toasted almonds on top, with the yoghurt on the side, and cous cous.

Healthy indulgence this January

with Tierra Kitchen's award-winning chef Mark Evans

HERE we go! It's January and healthy eating time again! Oh, and this time it's coming from a veggie chef.

Let's face it resolutions and healthy change are a bit scary for most people. However, this article is not intending to preach or convert, but simply to put a case that "great food can be healthy, sustainable, (vegetarian), and still pack a flayour tarian), and still pack a flavour punch to challenge roast pork."

Eating more healthily doesn't necessarily mean low fat and diet options. It does however mean eating nutritious foods that will feed our bodies the right type of energy. It also does not mean converting to vegetarianism. But carefully planned, fun, balanced meat free dishes a few times a week can make a real difference.

The "Meat free Mondays" initiative, brainchild of Stella and Paul McCartney is a very current example of vegetarian moderation. The book is packed with excellent recipes, both healthy and flavoursome, and the idea has sparked a weekly plethora of great dishes appearing in social media. My biggest inspiration is Dennis Cotter, the chef/ writer from Ireland's Cafe Paradiso, where I ate my best meal ever in a restaurant (I have eaten and worked in a fair few Michelin Star establishments). Cotter has five books under his belt, all are a testament to how vegetarian food can be original, flavoursome and exciting.

January still boasts a good harvest of local vegetables for a real five a day; Savoys, cavolo nero, leeks, broccoli, parsnips, chard, plus a good number of Winter stores from excellent local growers/ suppliers such as Miller's Farm shop, Trill Farm, SK fruits in Bridport to name but a few. Nuts and seeds are great sources of alternative protein, with "good fats", vitamins and minerals. When combined in dishes the right way they can rival meat in stabilising hunger and cravings.

For dairy produce, it doesn't get much better than in Dorset, East Devon and South Somerset. A little great cheese in cooking can be a lot! Why not ask the award winning Town Mill Cheesemonger in Lyme Regis or check out Jaxson's Deli in Bridport.

So, there is a case for indulging in flavour packed healthy food. Next week the challenge will be to sell this idea to children.

BridgeHouse Hotel's best year ever

T'S fair to say the BridgeHouse Hotel, Beaminster and its restaurant, the Beaminster Brasserie are on something of high. Two big awards – Dorset Tourism's Hotel of the Year and Taste of the West Gold – along with selection for the Michelin Food Guide as well as it's two AA Rosettes – confirm the hotel and restaurant have got it about right.

Great food – often a little different from standard fayre – has always been at the heart of operations at the hotel. For the last five years Head Chef, Steve Pielesz, has stamped his style and standards on the restaurant. Combined with a unique building – a 13th Century former priests' house – the brasserie successfully marries modern, contemporary dining with a magical and classy venue

Whether for a special occasion or more regular dining the restaurant offers a choice of areas in which to eat and budgets to suit. This time of year, open fires in bar & lounge complement the cosy dining room. Open for breakfast, lunch, dinner and afternoon teas every day of the week, it doesn't necessarily have to be a birthday, anniversary or wedding celebration to tempt you in to this relaxed and unpretentious venue. All our welcome any time to try something that little bit special.

Discover more about the BridgeHouse and Beaminster Brasserie at www.bridge-house.co.uk Twitter: @The_Bridge-House or call 01308 862200.

The BridgeHouse has always been about quality, something I feel passionately about from the local produce to the way our food is presented and served. But what I have really strived for in the restaurant is to make it accessible to everyone. Eating in a hotel restaurant doesn't necessarily have to be a stuffy affair. Being a small independently run hotel means we're free to provide personal, professional and relaxed service. The Bridge-House also lends itself well to all sorts of different dining occasions whether it's a Royal Cream Tea in the lounge of private dining in the large conservatory, there's a place to relax and enjoy the food my team and I have created – that's the part we take very seriously.

Having worked and trained in some amazing venues from The Chewton Glen to the Bath Spa and the Michelin starred L'Aubergarde in France, I appreciate the best I can do is to turn our wonderful local produce into something special and that can mean anything from a local, homemade pie to an exotic curry.

I like to think that our customers – many of whom we have known for years – have come to expect something special and usually different to the average, West Dorset menu. I'm flattered that Dorset Tourism and Taste of the West have both agreed, but that doesn't mean I'll ever rest on my laurels. Our Spring menu is already in the making. Watch out for some real treats on Burn's & Valentine's nights too.

Skittle Alley & Function Room

Show of Hands' Steve Knightley to perform intimate Dorset gig

THE well-known local group 'Show of Hands' have been described by Peter Gabriel as "one of the great English bands." Yet in 2014 Singer songwriter, Steve Knightley will be taking a break from city theatres and major concert stages in order to bring his songs to village halls and community venues throughout the land.

Steve's solo tour will find him in outof-the-way locations from Cornwall to the Borders as he returns to the rural roots of his music. "Having written so many songs over the years about people who live and work in the countryside and the day to day issues they face - it will be great to actually perform them in their spiritual homes."

On Sunday, February 9th, Steve will be playing at Wotton Fitzpaine Village Hall, near Charmouth. This beautiful Arts & Crafts village hall was Steve's choice as a venue for his gig in this part of Dorset. He lived nearby for many years and knows the area well. The concert is a fund-raiser for two very popular local churches – St Paul's in Wootton Fitzpaine and St Candida's in Whitchurch Canonicorum. Both churches need on-going maintenance and restoration and the proceeds from the evening will be shared between the two.

Doors and bar open from 7.30pm. Concert starts at 8.00pm

Tickets cost £16 each, and are availble by emailing Hannah@hannahlovegrove.co.uk, call 07971 434 336, or for cash sales only call in at Bridport Music, South Street, Bridport.

Please book early - this concert will sell out!

AS Jamie travels in Chile, he invites an eccentric woman to join his group's quest to score a fabled hallucinogen, a move that finds him at odds with his new companion, until they drink the magic brew on a beach at the edge of the desert. Stars Michael Cera &

Stars Michae Gaby Hoffman.

DEVIL'S DUE 15

AFTER a mysterious, lost night on their honeymoon, a newlywed couple finds themselves dealing with an earlier-than-planned preg-nancy. While recording everything for posterity, the husband begins to notice odd behavior in his wife that they initially write off to nerves, but, as the months pass, it becomes evident that the dark changes to her body and mind have a much more sinister origin.

Stars Allison Miller, Zach Gilford and Sam Anderson.

What an interesting year 2013 was for Gordon and Rumsby

HAVING opened a small office in Colyton in 2012, we found ourselves unexpectedly moving into a larger one in July of last year. Our new office, in one of the many Georgian buildings in the town, is in a prime position on the corner of Market Square & Queen St. Many of our visitors comment on the welcoming atmosphere as we have tried to make the place feel homely.

We have an interesting selection of local art on display, so please feel free to come & take a look.

As for the property market, things finally seem to be improving with October & November being the best months of the year so far, so we have great hopes for 2014.

We may be a small team but our business is built on recommendation & we care for our customers & through the internet, we reach buyers worldwide. The predictions for 2014 are that activity will continue to increase with more property coming onto the market to fulfil the increase in demand. So far, that appears to be the case even so early in the year.

Mortgages are finally on the increase too with lenders offering more products and becoming a little more relaxed about lending. This coupled with the Help to Buy scheme which helps people to buy pre-owned homes as well as new ones, means that we should see a more rounded market place developing throughout the coming year.

If you are thinking of selling in 2014 or need advice on property matters, please come and pay us a visit or call us on 01297 553768 or 01460 30888.

With Best Wishes for a Prosperous New Year from the team at Gordon and Rumsby: Julie, Mary, Debbie and Samantha

Fortnam Smith & Banwell launch new website!

Fortnam Smith & Banwell are delighted to announce the launch of their new website at www.fsb4homes.com which has been designed to offer improved functionality and usability.

The new website offers the opportunity to request valuations and to register tailored property searches. Applicants can search thousands of properties across the West Country in both the sales and lettings markets with Fortnam Smith and Banwell and FSB Rentals, along with all the properties on the market with the 80+ Property Sharing Expert agents.

Property Sharing Experts

Property Sharing Experts are a group of 80+ agents across the West Country all working together to sell property. Every agent is computer linked, therefore, if an applicant goes into any of the 80+ offices (16 of which are between here and Exeter), the properties of every agent covering their specified area will also match to them. The agent can then print the full details for that property and contact the relevant office to arrange a viewing. Vendors will only ever be contacted by their own agent who will also carry out the viewing as usual but if that applicant then goes on to purchase that property, the agent who introduced them receives a share of the commission, therefore the motivation is there - and it works! Effectively, Fortnam Smith & Banwell offer a multiple agency agreement for a sole agency fee.

Now with Two London Offices!

Property Sharing Experts have also recently opened an office in Westminster, therefore, coupled with Fortnam Smith & Banwell's existing office in Mayfair, they now offer the greatest London presence available from any local agent. The Mayfair Office Group advertise in National papers such as The Daily Telegraph and The Times and glossy magazines such as Country Life. All of Fortnam Smith and Banwell's properties feature on the Mayfair Office website and thanks to their fantastic buying power and contacts within the National Press, the properties have the opportunity to be selected for free editorials within these titles – and, in fact, one of Fortnam Smith & Banwell's Seaton properties was featured in the Telegraph Property section recently!

To find out how Fortnam Smith and Banwell will apply their best efforts in the marketing and sale of your property, contact Lyme Regis office on 01297 445666, Charmouth office on 01297 560945 or Seaton office on 01297 23939

Lanehouse Vauxhall promotes safe winter travel

Top travel tips

In addition to offering Winter Safety Checks, Lanehouse Vauxhall is also on hand with a range of tips to promote safer winter driving, particularly in icy and snowy conditions:

- Ensure footwear is dry and free from dirt or snow before
- · Pull away in second gear, easing off the clutch slowly to avoid wheel-spin
- Increase normal braking distance and apply brakes gently. Release brake and de-clutch if the car skids
- · When going uphill, use higher gears, keep a constant speed and choose an appropriate gear well in advance
- · When traveling downhill, use a low gear and try to avoid using the brakes
- Ensure tyres have adequate tread (1.6mm is the legal
- · Don't forget to carry AutoSock Snow Socks; they're a quick and easy solution for driving on icy and snowy urging motorists in Dorset to get ready for the cold road ahead after new research reveals that only half of drivers will be preparing their car for winter travel this year.

The poll commissioned by Vauxhall* identified that over a quarter of drivers admit they don't know what the legal minimum tread is for tyres, and that a quarter of motorists in South East will not be storing anything in their car this winter to help them cope with unpredictable weather, meaning that many may not be properly equipped should travel troubles

In response to the research findings, the retailer which has sites in Bridport and Weywinter long for motorists and their passen-

Dominic Avery, Company Director at Lanehouse Vauxhall, comments: "With a quarter of motorists in the area failing to prepare for winter weather, there's never been a better time for drivers to brush up on their knowledge and check that their car is capable and properly kitted out."

Encouragingly however, for those who are planning to prepare, it would appear that torches, blankets and water are the top three items to pack. Meanwhile, over a quarter will be keeping food such as sweet and chocolate, as well as hot drinks, in their car.

ter Safety Check campaign, which enables drivers to take advantage of a thorough inspection of their vehicle by highly trained Vauxhall technicians and offers the reassurance that cars will be fit for travel in wintry conditions.

Safe Winter Travel

A Vauxhall Winter Safety Check costs just £25** and is a great-value way for Vauxhall owners to enjoy peace of mind this winter.

The team of Vauxhall MasterFit trained technicians at Lanehouse Vauxhall will inspect a vehicle's brakes, tyres, exhaust, steering, wiper blades and much more, as well as checking engine oil, brake fluid and radiator coolant, topping-up where necessary.

Customers who take advantage of a Winter Safety Check before 28th February 2014 will get a free Winter Survival Pack worth more than £20 RRP to take away with them. The free pack includes a high visibility jacket, Autoglym De-Icer, a mini foldable shovel, ice scraper and mini wind-up torch, offering drivers the reassurance that they are fully equipped, whatever the weather.

To find out more about Vauxhall's range of aftersales services or to book a Winter Safety Check, please go online to www.lanehousegroup.co.uk to find your nearest retailer.

Škoda 2013: Success with New Models

ŠKODA AUTO has successfully implemented its international growth strategy in 2013 again, selling 920,800 vehicles worldwide (2012: 939,200). Following the model launches in the first six months, ŠKODA saw significant growth later in the year, and recently achieved the best ever December for ŠKODA.

In the last month of the year, the company delivered  $70,\!000$  vehicles to customers, which is an increase of 5.8%over the previous December-record, set in 2012. In the vears ahead, ŠKODA plans to grow further. To achieve this continued growth, the manufacturer will be introducing a new or revised model on average every six months until

"ŠKODA has demonstrated its strength this year. Despite the above-average number of production start-ups and fierce headwinds from some markets, we achieved the second-best sales year in corporate history - This is an excellent result," says ŠKODA CEO Prof. Dr. h.c. Winfried Vahland. "2013 was a record year with more new ŠKODA models than ever before. Eight new or completely revised models show the power of the ŠKODA brand. The winged arrow is shining, and our new cars are being very well received. Our attractrive model range, good flow of incoming orders and increasingly bright future on the European

tive markets make us confident for 2014

2013 - the third year of the ŠKODA growth strategy - was both a successful and an intense year for the Czech carmaker. Eight new or revised models, twelve international production start-ups, expansion of capacity in the Czech Republic, as well as in the growth markets of China and Russia, added to this the crisis in some markets: "2013 was really quite a year!" says Dr. Vahland. After the first half of the year had been characterized by the difficult market situation in Europe, as well as the production start-ups and the associated lower production volumes, ŠKODA was back on track in the second half of the year. With the full availability of the new models, sales increased significantly each month from September onwards. "Our model campaign is now showing its full strength. We are growing strongly and expanding our market shares continuously," says Werner Eichhorn, ŠKODA Board Member for Sales and Marketing.

The new models have been very well received - especially the new ŠKODA Octavia, which is once again proving to be a great hit. In December, ŠKODA Octavia grew once again in Western Europe with high double-digit growth rates: up 52.3% compared to December 2012. In Europe as a whole, the Octavia recorded an increase of

In Western Europe, ŠKODA performed significantly better than the overall declining market in 2013. 369,600 vehicles sold represents an increase of 3.1% compared to 2012 (358,400). In December, Western European sales even rose by 17.8% to 31,300 vehicles (December 2012: 26,600). The ŠKODA market share in Western Europe increased for the year as a whole to 3.2% (2012: 3.0%). In the second largest market, Germany, ŠKODA grew to 136,400 deliveries in 2013, which is an increase over the previous year of 2.9% (132,600). The market share rose to 4.6% and ŠKODA continues to build its position as the strongest import brand in Germany.

In the UK, the manufacturer increased deliveries to customers over the past year by 24% to a new record high of 66,000 vehicles (2012: 53,200). The Czech brand also achieved double-digit growth in Denmark, up 40.7 % to 14,600 vehicles (2012: 10,400). Sales in Spain have also seen a positive increase (13,400 vehicles; +3.0%), Italy (12,100 vehicles; +2.0%), Norway (6,800 vehicles; +2.1%) and Sweden (12,300 vehicles, +1.4%).

In Eastern Europe, including Russia, ŠKODA delivered 125,400 vehicles to customers last year (2012: 137,100; -8.5%). ŠKODA's market share reached 4%. In ŠKODA's third-largest market, Russia, the manufacture achieved 87,500 deliveries (2012: 99,100; -11.7%). The new Octavia was introduced there in the second half of the year. The Rapid is to follow in the first six months of 2014. Considerable growth was also seen in Kazakhstan in 2013, where 4,700 customers decided on a new ŠKODA, which is an increase of 145.7% over the previous year (1,900). ŠKODA achieved growth in the Baltic States (Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania), where the brand grew by 3.4% to 4,600 vehicles sold in 2013 (2012: 4,500). In Serbia ŠKODA increased deliveries by 12.4% to 4,200 units (2012:

ŠKODA grew once again in Central Europe in 2013. Deliveries to customers rose by 2.0% to 126,500 vehicles (2012: 124,000). ŠKODA's market share rose to 19.2%. In December, brand deliveries in Central Europe grew by 13.5% to 11,300 (December 2012: 9,900). In the domestic market - the Czech Republic, ŠKODA sold a total of 60,000 vehicles in 2013, an increase of 0.6% (2012: 59,700). ŠKODA is defending its top position also in Poland. With 38,700 vehicles sold (2012: 36,300), representing an increase of 6.6% over the same period last year, the Czech carmaker remains the undisputed market leader for 2013.

New S-Class Crowned Best Luxury Car At The What Car? Awards 2014

teria – What Car? stipulating: "Luxury cars are all about wafting you along in a bubble of calm, so a soothing ride and exceptional noise suppression are key. A cabin made from the finest materials and lovingly put together are other prerequisites, as is a sense of well-being, whether you're driving the car or employing someone to do it for you. Running costs are less important than with other cars, but you don't get to run a luxury car by throwing your money away, so low tax bills are a bonus."

Chas Hallett, What Car? Editor-in-Chief, commented: "We expected the new Mercedes S-Class to be good, but even we didn't expect it to set a totally new standard by which all other luxury cars are judged."

In eight years, the S-Class has won the accolade latest win reaffirms its position as the leading lux-ury car in the UK – a title supported in the registration figures for 2013.

The latest S-Class is lighter, more efficient, cleaner, safer and packed with even more technology than its award-winning predecessor. The S 350 BlueTEC returns 51.4 mpg, according to official fuel consumption figures, while emitting just 146 g/km of CO2 and is available from £62,650 OTR. The full model line-up will be complete later this year when the S 300 BlueTEC HYBRID, the innovative S 500 Plug-in HYBRID and the range topping S 65 AMG join the S 350 BlueTEC, S 500 and S 63 AMG.

Gary Savage, Managing Director Mercedes-Benz Cars UK, commented: "The new S-Class has only just arrived in the UK, and to win What Car?'s achievement. The S-Class is packed with safety. technology, comfort and refinement, and also with plenty of space – and it is this luxurious blend that clearly appeals to UK customers. "Being the UK's best-selling luxury car shows that our designers, engineers and product team have created a range that not only makes rational sense, it creates a great emotional reaction from people who are driving - or being driven - in an S-Class"

Following the lead of its pioneering forbearers, the S-Class continues to innovate. It's the first vehicle in over 100 years to not contain a single light bulb, with LED technology being employed throughout the car. The S 500 L is also the first car in the world to detect and deal with bumps on the road ahead with the optional Magic Body Control system. Unevenness in the road surface is monitored by the Stereo Multi-Purpose Camera, which then adapts the suspension in advance, reducing the impact of bumps and dips - creating an incredibly smooth ride.

Also recognised in the What Car? Awards was the new E-Class Cabriolet – being named as the 'Best Buy' in the more than £35,000 price bracket in the Open-top Car category.
The Awards come at the start of what promises to be an exciting year for Mercedes-Benz in the UK – with a stronger market position than ever before following record 2013 registrations – fresh additions to the range include a new C-Class family, and the GLA-Class compact SUV, which will be among a series of models being introduced throughout the year.

Jarring January as UK storms cause a 'Hole' lot of trouble

The recent wet weather storms and risk of freezing conditions towards the end of the month, threaten to deliver the worst pothole season ever seen in the UK, according to Warranty Direct's road campaign website. Potholes.co.uk. Potholes traditionally appear on Britain's under-invested road network in greater numbers between January and April. In 2013, Warranty Direct, which insures motorists against mechanical damage, estimated that pothole related repair bills cost almost £730million – a 159% rise in three years. The Met Office reported that parts of southern England experienced around twice the average amount of rainfall normally expected in December. With local authorities calculating a road network pitted with 200,000 potholes needing repair, persistently heavy rain and flood water has now created the perfect storm for a new plague of potholes.

"The worst is yet to come," says Rory Buckley of Warranty Direct's potholes.co.uk. "This wet weather will be saturating roads right across the UK with existing potholes channelling water to weaken the road's substructure, literally paving the way for even more potholes and defects to

Current conditions are also treacherous for drivers with the growing threat of 'invisible potholes' - filled with rainwater and much harder to spot, particularly in the dark winter commuting hours. Analysis of over 150,000 Warranty Direct policies between 2010 and 2013 found that on average, 6.6% percent of cars suffered axle or suspension damage linked to potholes or road

However, in 2010 axle or suspension damage made up just 4.0% of all claims, in 2013 this had increased to 10.1% – a 159% rise in cases.

With around 29.4million cars on UK roads in 2013 and an average repair bill of £247, the total annual cost for the estimated 2.9million cars struck by axle and suspension damage was calculated to be £729,396,000[1]. The figure excludes commercial vehicles.

Heavy rainfall undermines the lower, structural layers of the road creating cracks, fissures and more potholes – which are then enlarged by a daily procession of vehicles widening and deepening the craters. Buckley adds: "Potholes and other road defects can cause sudden jarring or regular jarring which accelerates wear and tear to axle and suspension components, often leading to failure. Damage to wheel rims and punctured tyres are also a common fault of potholes."

With almost 2million potholes filled over the last year at a cost of £99million, the shortfall in annual road structural budget is calculated to be £741 million – £6.2 million on average per au-

Div One derby ends all-square Hounds can't halt Chard United juggernaut

EVENTFUL: Matt Read scored twice and missed a penalty in Waytown Hounds 3-2 defeat against Chard Utd.

ON TARGET: Ian Baker netted Lyme home win over Chard Rangers.

DERBY GOAL: Dean Hvett scored the goal which earned Beaminster Re

A DOUBLE from Sam Dibling saw Millwey Rise jump three places to sixth after an impressive win over title contenders Perry Street at Harry's field.

Dibling's opener gave the hosts a slender 1-0 lead at half-time. Liam Riste, on target for the eighth consecutive game, equalised from the penalty spot for his 18th goal of the season.

The visitors had the ball in the net soon after but this was scrubbed out for offside by referee Nigel Fry.

At the other end Dibling, despite more appeals for offside, struck again in 66th minute and Levi Hoole clinched the win near the end with his 17th goal of the campaign.

WINSHAM UTD 3 MISTERTON 3

"NO complaints, they battled hard" was Misterton manager Adge Diment's assessment as Winsham United landed their first point of the season.

The hosts opened the scoring and led 2-1 at the turnaround. Missy, now unbeaten in four, emerged strongly after the break and struck twice midway through to lead 3-2 but Winsham deservedly bagged a third 10 minutes from time.

Corrin Corrick (2) and Bradley Masters netted for the hosts with Ben Brister (2) and ex-Beaminster striker Alex Leckenbury (was Stephenson) replying.

DIVISION ONE

BEAMINSTER RES 1 NETHERBURY 1

DESPITE early fears, the Memorial Ground pitch held up very well and both sides managed to play some neat football in this west Dorset local-derby.

Netherbury took the lead after just five minutes with an impressive move. Tom Franklin burst up the right flank before squaring the ball to Phil Hussey who, after two neat touches, set up John Kingston to strike the ball low into the bottom corner.

Netherbury continued to press in the opening half-hour and had enjoyed good pressure in the final third but couldn't extend their lead.

Beaminster improved in the last 15 minutes with Ambers' keeper Mark Cuff making a smart save down to his left.

Early in the second-half Hussey had a good chance to make it 2-0, but his shot was well saved by Rainbows' keeper Dave Persey who also denied Robbie Wayland.

The hosts equalised in the 71st minute when Dean Hyett was left oneon-one with Cuff and cushioned an accurate sidefoot finish into the net after a seemingly harmless cross bounced over Richard Pincombe as the defender lost his footing.

Within minutes Pincombe was called upon to made a superb last ditch tackle. Netherbury pushed to try and get a winner, but despite some late pressure, failed to create a clear-cut

"We had some nice patches of football at times, but couldn't seem to get the goals we needed to kill them off". said Netherbury boss Andy Loudon who picked out Ĺloyd Wakely as his top

Beaminster manager lan Butcher said: "It was a very even game with our defence looking strong and behind them Dave (Persey) has been excellent all season. The whole team improved as the game went on."

DIVISION TWO

WAYTOWN HOUNDS 2 CHARD UNITED 3

AFTER a period of early pressure Chard went ahead in the fifth minute after they forced three consecutive corners, the last of which was headed home by their Polish playmaker Kamil Wilk.

But the early goal seemed to kick start The Hounds into action.

A move involving several players was finished by Matt Read, who cut in from the left wing and shot home from the edge of the area.

The Hounds had the momentum for the rest of the first-half, but failed to capitalise and the teams trooped off all-square at 1-1. Chard regrouped after the break and came out stronger. They had the ball in the net shortly after the restart, but the 'goal' was disallowed for off side.

Read then got his second to put The Hounds 2-1 up, but Chard responded and left-back Alex Ives smashed the ball high into the roof of the net to make it 2-2.

Hounds' striker Jon Legg had two very good penalty shouts waved away by referee Willie Marks, then Paul Watkins was upended in the box referee Marks

But Read squandered a golden opportunity to claim his hat-trick, when his spot-kick was well saved by Chard Keeper Matt Sweet.

The visitors now had the momentum and Wilk scored his second late on to make it nine wins from nine and go to the top of the table.

Steve Masters was the Hounds' Manof-the Match.

Waytown manager Mark Hughes thought his side were unlucky to end up emptyhanded, he said: "I think we deserved a point, but full credit to Chard who dug in to keep their winning run going.

DIVISION THREE

LYME BANTAMS 3 CHARD RANGERS 1 LYME Regis Bantams' promotion hopes

were given a double boost as they eased to victory over lowly Chard Rangers and then learned of Hawkchurch United's impressive victory over title favourites Barrington Reserves.

Rangers came into the game on the back of eight straight defeats and were soon on the back foot when Andy David's driving run ended with a neat cross to lan Baker who tapped in for a fifth minute opener.

The Seasiders came close to adding to their lead two minutes before the break when another David cross, this time from the left wing, found Jamie Quarrington whose diving header was superbly tipped over by 16-year-old keeper Nick O'Connor.

Soon after the restart Lyme skipper Jason Hawker squandered a golden chance when he dragged a shot wide for 10 yards after good work from Baker.

But the second goal duly arrived in the 49th minute.

Jack Turner, in his last game before he heads off travelling in New Zealand, surged through the Rangers midfield before picking out Hawker who crossed well for David to score from close range.

From here Lyme appeared set to open the floodgates.

But credit to the visitors who responded well and grabbed a lifeline when Kane Ellis rifled home from the edge of the box via the underside of the crossbar.

However, the win was clinched in the 68th minute when Ben Morgan flashed home a shot from 20-yards that de-

Top performers from the hosts were centre-backs Chris Simpson and Malcolm Darby and David who was behind much of their attacking intent.

DIVISION FOUR MISTERTON RES 1 UPLYME RES 1

UPLYME Reserves moved up a place to seventh after returning from Unity Lane with point on Saturday.

The hosts struck first only from Brandon Bryant to equalise with his fifth goal of the season before the interval.

Uplyme manager Stuart Wooster was however disappointed with the result, he said: "We missed a catalogue of chances and should have won at a can-

Wooster picked out midfielder Pete Bladamer as his Man-of-the-Match

Blues go down in drab encounter

Swanage & Wareham 4th 14 Bridport 2nd 12

SWANAGE & Wareham were charging £3 to park and watch this Dorset & Wilts Four league match, and if you enjoy watching scrums being endlessly set and reset you would have enjoyed excellent value for money; the backs were so cold as a result that the numerous handling errors could be excused writes Adrian Everitt.

The hosts kicked off into a low sun on a glorious afternoon, and enjoyed a sustained period of pressure close to the Bridport line.

Bridport conceded numerous penalties, but defended stoutly and their first vigorous incursion into Swanage's half resulted in a scrum five meters out.

Scrum-half, Ollie Everitt, chose to go blindside and his well timed off-load sent John Butler thumping over in the corner. Rob Parker's conversion from a difficult angle hit the post and went wide.

Swanage then returned to Bridport's 22 and set up camp, their large, if somewhat one dimensional, forwards mounting attack after attack.

Their endeavour was rewarded with a try from their hooker, Craig Peterson. The conversion from in front of the posts was a formality.

Territory in the second-half was more evenly contested, with erratic handling leading to opportunities missed on both sides. Finally, strong running from Brid-port's backs led to a try from George Bowditch.

This was sufficiently controversial to earn a Swanage player a straight red card for some choice epithets directed at the referee. Rob Parker converted.

Regrettably, Jamie Livingstone was then awarded the yellow variety and during the resulting regrouping Swanage scored again via Paul Dagley. Lee Smith con-

Determined play from backs and forwards could easily have given Bridport a win at the last gasp, but the final pass went loose and Swanage emerged winners at 14-12. Another day it could have gone the other way.

All played their part with Man of the Match, Darragh McCloghlin, tireless in defence, Mark Gough especially lively in the pack and George Bowditch strong in the

YOUTH TEAMS NEWS BRIDPORT U16 7 SHERBORNE 20

A tough game in slippery conditions saw Bridport lose to a good running Sherborne side.

With a couple of injuries in the forwards, Bridport struggled to gain possession and were for much of the game working off the back foot.

Sherborne scored two unconverted early tries before Bridport answered with an individual try under the posts from Tom Kidd. Some great tackling from both sides reflected a good game until some unnecessary tension flared up to spoil the game for Bridport.

Bridport were missing a couple of regular forwards, but George Pearce, Ewen Dommet and Will Bowen-Ashwin all acquitted themselves well.

SHERBORNE U13 17 BRIDPORT 26

WHAT a great start to the year for the Under 13's. It was encouraging for Bridport to travel with a full team, and a substitute, that they loaned to Sherborne, and to play so well considering they had not yet trained in 2014.

However it was the hosts that opened the scoring with an unconverted try on a chilly and windy day. Bridport however hit back with a try of their own and with both sides scoring converted tries it levelled the game at 12-

It continued to be nip and tuck with Sherborne taking the lead with an unconverted try, but Bridport finally got the victory with two more converted scores.
The Blues tries were scored by Alex Phillip, Guy Braizer, Toby Taylor and Sam Roberts-Wray with Joe O'Hagan converting three of them.

Spectacular goal triggers away defeat

Bournemouth 3rd 4 Beaminster 1

A SPECTACULAR goal led to Beaminster's defeat at Chapel Gate in the first game back after the Christmas break.

Locked at 1-1 ten minutes into the second-half, a Bournemouth attack down the right saw the winger smash an angled ball across the Beaminster D where a lunging stick turned it past Lisa Condliffe in a flash.

Whether controlled or a lucky strike, it turned the match as Beaminster were forced to go looking for an equaliser.

They were further hampered by being reduced to ten players when Genna Campbell had to leave the field after being hit in the face, they conceded two late goals on the break.

Things had started well for Beaminster in an even first-half that saw them take the lead on 15 minutes when Hannah Dale put them ahead, scoring at the far post after the home keeper had parried an initial shot.

Bournemouth were equally potent, although some slightly wayward shooting and great tackling from Player-of-the-Match Tori Hosegood left Condliffe little Dale had a great chance to put Beaminster further ahead ten minutes before the break when Hosegood's sideline hit found her unmarked in the D, but she put her shot too close to the keeper.

Facing a strong, low sun that gave both sides problems, Beaminster found some-times found it difficult finding their players in the second-half.

Bournemouth equalised five minutes in when the visiting defence failed to clear their lines and they took advantage from a rebound after Condliffe had saved the initial shot.

Having taken the lead soon after with the spectacular goal, Bournemouth were pushed back as Beaminster upped their game, who despite creating chances they were not clinical enough in front of goal.

The hosts went further ahead with a breakaway goal and after Campbell's iniury added another late on as Beaminster still went taking the game to their oppo-

Herbert and Sutcliffe hit rivals for six

THE first of two West Dorset Primary Schools Cross Country Championship races took place at The Sir John Colfox School last week with the winning girl and boy employing contrasting tactics in their victories.

Around 50 girls and 80 boys from 11 schools around West Dorset competed in what is the second running of this annual event which includes a second race to be held in Beaminster next month.

Despite the glorious weather for the race, the gales and rain over the previous fortnight had left the course very heavy in places

However Maddy Herbert of Loders who won the Colmer Hill race recently made light of it and led straight from the off.

Setting a blistering pace which she maintained all the way, she went on to win by a long way, one second short of a minute in a second fastest course record time of 10min 36secs.

Another Loders runner Rosie Hart was second with Ellen Pearce, St Marys, Bridport in third.

Loders won the overall team event with 40 points, with Thorncombe (56) second, and Bridport St Mary's (66)

It looked like a Colmer's double as the winner Zakjohn Ousley of St Mary's, Bridport set the pace in the boy's race and led going up the hill.

However, he was overtaken on the descent by Barney Sutcliffe of Bridport Primary who finished strongly winning from Ousley by 14 seconds in a time of 10min 6secs, with another Bridport Primary runner Tom Kilcoyne, who did incredibly well considering he is a Year 5 pupil, finishing third.

Sutcliffe helped his school Bridport Primary win the overall team event with just 25 points, followed by St Catherine's (38) and Loders (74) third.

Good start to 2014 by Under 17's

Poole Town Wessex Colts 0 Bridport Youth 5

AFTER a wobbly first five minutes when they struggled to get out of their own half, Bridport dominated for most of the remainder

After Jonah Ayunga had weaved his way into the box to blast past the 'keeper for the first goal, the Poole defence was pulled apart time and again by attacks down the wings from Billy Jones and Will Lovell with support from full-backs Callum Douglas and Fred Warren.

Ayunga soon netted a second, before Olly Woodcock spectacularly flicked in Sam Tabner's near post corner.

Woodcock scored again after a flowing move down the right flank and the result was beyond doubt with Bridport 4-0 up at half-time.

The second-half was a scrappier affair as the heavy conditions took their toll and reckless challenges meant that both teams picked up two yellow cards.

Ayunga completed his hat-trick as Bridport keeper Will Abur-row barely saw the ball in the second period. Bridport Manager Terry Warren said: "The first-half was a near flawless performance. Nothing got past centre backs Jordan Gregory and Tom Foulsham and Olly Mullins dominated sitting deep in midfield.

"In the second half we got bogged down in the middle a bit, but overall it was one of our best performances of the season." The return league fixture is next Sunday, either at St Mary's Bridport or at Poole depending on pitch conditions.

Bees thwarted by weather again

frustrated by the postponement of their Toolstation Western League Premier Division home game against Cadbury Heath last Saturday.

The game was called off after an early morning inspection of St Mary's Field that showed two areas; down the middle of the pitch and by the away dugout; were too wet.

"It was touch and go," said Senior.

"The referee however decided against it after trying to bounce and roll the ball in these areas.

"It's not ideal, that's three games we have lost to the weather in three weeks. Having said that we are fairly well up on our fixtures, it shouldn't put too much pressure on us as the season

This Saturday the Bees visit Odd Down, currently in sixth place, which means that they only five of their remaining sixteen games are against sides in the top half of the table, which providing the Bees maintain their cur-

Bridport have received a seven days approach from Weymouth for Sean Stewart who joined the Bees in Sep-

Senior said:"We have received the notice from Weymouth, but Sean has told me that he is quite happy at Brid-port and will not be moving."

With both the first and reserves matches postponed, Senior popped in on the Thirds who were playing Kangaroos in Dorset League 1 in Dorch-

The Thirds were bolstered by first teamer Matt Condliffe who was getting some match practice having not played for around a month, and a few reserves players due to a shortage of regular 3rd team personnel who were

However Bridport seemed to run out of steam after half an hour and Kangaroos equalised with a good goal. The second half saw the Bees regain their composure and they created a number of chances, the best falling to Matt Condliffe who fired wide of the post having gone clear.

Despite their dominance, it was the hosts that won the match with two breakaway goals. Manager Andy Hitchcock said:

"That's the best we have played for some time and we deserved to win on the chances created.

"Everyone played well but special mention goes to two of our youngest players Zak Hawker and Ryan Gall in
